DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 76-86, 98, 99, 104, 108, 110, 114, 115, 118, 129-132 are drawn to held device which receives promotions and redeems said promotions, classified in class 705, subclass 41.
 - II. Claims 133-142 and 149 are drawn to a hand held device for providing promotional opportunities to users, classified in class 725, subclass 136.
 - III. Claims 143-148 and 150-165, drawn to receiving promotional opportunities via remote processing by a computer separate from the device that receives auxiliary data, classified in class 725, subclass 141.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I, II, and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed, group II, does not require the particulars of the subcombinations as claimed because:

- In group I, the recited limitation of redeeming promotional opportunities is not recited in groups II or III.

Art Unit: 2611

- In group III, the recited limitation of communicating with a computer for remote processing for receiving promotional opportunities is not recited in groups I or II.

The subcombinations have separate utility such as:

- Group I has separate utility as a means for encouraging users to watch particular advertisements by providing redeemable promotions, such as coupons, wherein the promotional opportunities claimed in group II could simply be supplemental advertising information.
- Group III has separate utility as a home shopping system, wherein the reception of promotional opportunities in groups I and II can be performed solely by the hand held device and does not require a separate computer.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to Randy Canis on 8/22/2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
